

Jules Genik

Jules was born with transformative Pluto prominent in her chart. From as early as she can remember, Jules felt she had a unique insight and arcane level of awareness and quickly found herself drawn to the mystic.

She has travelled extensively travel throughout Europe, Japan and Asia before permanently relocating to the UK to study astrology at the prestigious Faculty of Astrological Studies where she gained the Certificate in 2008.

Since moving to London she has appeared as a presenter for a UK call-in chat show called Love Signs and currently writes a monthly relationship column for Prediction Magazine.

Jules enjoys meeting people wherever she goes. Through astrology she has learned to understand people from all walks of life and appreciates what motivates the different characters she meets. The experience of interacting with others is a key part of her continuing education.

Not one to rest on her laurels, she actively pursues her own personal development through self-analysis techniques such as past life regression.

Born and raised in Canada, she currently resides in London, England but travels frequently to continental Europe and North America.

What Astrology can do for you

Astrology is the symbolic language of interpreting the cosmos.

An astrological birth chart is a snapshot of the celestial sky for the moment you were born and offers insight into a person's life journey.

The relationship of the planets in the natal chart can show where a person's strengths and aptitudes lie; also the challenges and hurdles they may face.

Sometimes life presents us with major challenges or crossroads and through astrology, we can gain perspective. An astrological consultation encourages direction and self-development while unlocking potential.

How does it work?

An astrological consultation gives you a better understanding of the complexities of your own personality as well as passing and current planetary trends in your life.

I'll need your birth date, location and exact time to prepare your natal chart. From there the astrological analysis can begin!

Simply email me or call to make arrangements. Consultations can be face to face in the London area or worldwide by phone.

Astrological Consultations by Jules

There are many different types of astrological consultations available, and depending on what you want to gain, I can offer a combination of the following:

Personality Profile

An in-depth look at your natal chart reveals personality traits and focuses on the main themes in your life.

Transits & Progressions

See how the planets in their past, current and future positions affect your life. Your progressed natal chart will show inner growth and self-development.

Solar Return

Your birthday is your own personal new year. A solar return is a look at the trends and cycles for the year ahead.

Relationship Comparison

Known as synastry, an in-depth look at what attracts two people and where any potential difficulties lie. This is especially useful for romantic or business partners, friends or family. (Second person's birth data also required).

Relocation Astrology

Thinking of moving? Find out which city or country you'll fare well in—and where you won't!
